PURGE OF 24 JAPS ORDERED BY M'ARTHUR

Tokyo Government Notifies Accused They Have Been Barred From Politics

RETALIATION FEARED

Tokyo, June 6—(P)—General MacArthur, angered by Japanese Red attacks on American soldiers, ordered 24 top Communist leaders purged today and the Japanese government swiftly followed his command.

The government promptly notified the 24 members of the Communist party central committee they have been barred from politics.

Seven of them will vacate parliamentary seats. All will be prohibited from party membership or any other political activity. They will be barred from positions of influence in other activities.

The swift move which MacArthur ordered in a letter to Premier Shigeru Yoshida will cost the Reds their principal public speakers and most effective leaders. Technically they also will be prohibited from guiding party affairs or writing.

Notification of the purge by the government was made in a series of telegrams and special delivery letters to the Reds. They were dispatched after the cabinet discussed MacArthur's letter at a special meeting.

National police, who took steps to guard against possible retaliatory action, arrested two union leaders for their alleged part in the Memorial Day demonstration during which American soldiers were attacked.

The arrests led to speculation that MacArthur's letter may be a springboard to stronger measures against the Communists.

The government, in the wake of Sunday's elections which saw Yoshida's pro-occupation Liberal party retained in power, already had announced its intention of outlawing the Communist party.

An occupation official said MacArthur's order does not prohibit the Communist party.

PRISONER SENTENCED TO THREE LIFE TERMS

San Francisco, June 6—(P)—An air force sergeant convicted in the rape-slitting of Mrs. Fairy Becker, 44-year-old sergeant in the women's air force, has been sentenced to three life terms.

Sentence was pronounced yesterday on Lyle Buswell, 33, who was convicted June 1 in the death of Mrs. Becker, a resident of York, Pa. Her body was found March 5 near the women's barracks at Hamilton Field.

Buswell was convicted of murder, of murder in the course of rape, and of rape.

Buswell flushed as sentence was pronounced by Federal Judge Louis E. Goodman. The U. S. Attorney General will select the prison to which Buswell will be sent.

Plans Completed For Tour to Coast By Local Delegation to Shrine Convention

Plans have been completed for the tour to the coast in connection with the annual convention in Los Angeles this month, of a delegation of members of the Warren County Shrine Club.

The local delegation will leave Warren next Friday morning at 8 o'clock on a special bus which will carry the members to the Shrine.

Executive Secretary of P. S. E. A. To Deliver Commencement Address

Eugene P. Bertin, who has served as assistant executive secretary of the Pennsylvania State Education Association since April, 1947, has accepted the invitation to deliver the commencement address to the Warren High School Class of 1950 when graduation exercises are held Thursday evening.

Native of the rural area near Williamsport, Mr. Bertin has spent most of his life in Pennsylvania, attending Lycoming county schools and receiving his high school diploma from South Williamsport.

Later studies earned him a bachelor of arts in law from Bucknell University and his master's in comparative literature and the English language from Harvard. At present he is studying for his doctorate in educational administration from University of Chicago.

His present position with the PSEA involves the writing of pamphlets on educational subjects and services, interviewing local and state leaders, meeting with various organizations throughout Pennsylvania interested in the education program, addressing

Politicians Eye Hot Primary Election In California For Indication of Trends

Politicians, with an eye on national trends turned to the hot California primaries today, to watch the fortunes of Democrat James Roosevelt and Republican Earl Warren.

They were busy, too, appraising the results of yesterday's senatorial primary elections in Iowa. There, Republican voters gave Senator Hickenlooper a wide margin for re-nomination and early Democratic returns built up an increasing lead for Albert Loveland, who campaigned for the senatorial nomination as a backer of the Brannan farm plan.

Hickenlooper has figured on the national scene most prominently as an investigator of the workings of the Atomic Energy Commission, and lately as a member of the senate group checking into charges of Communism in government. Hickenlooper's race against two Republican primary opponents was not even close.

However, Loveland's bid for the Democratic nomination was contested by five opponents. Chief among these for former Gov. Nelson G. Kraschel, who fought the farm plan advocated by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan.

In California today, over 2,000,000 voters were taking part in primary elections (Turn to Page Nine)

Deed To War Memorial Field Accepted, Regulations For Same Are Discussed

A bundle of new police regulations, aimed at improving traffic control in the borough, were approved by Town Council at the June meeting in the Municipal building last night.

The solons also accepted the deed to War Memorial Field, and approved a number of regulations drawn up by the Parks Committee for use of the field.

The new police regulations provide:

(1) Parallel parking on both sides of East street between Second and Third avenues.

(2) Elimination of stop signs facing traffic in Madison street at the intersections of South and Central streets. These intersections now carry four-way stop signs, and the new regulation will make Madison avenue a through street.

(3) Parking on the south side of Fifth avenue, West from Beach to Union streets.

(4) Maximum speed of 10 miles per hour and load limits of eight tons for the Fifth street bridge spanning Conewago Creek and 10 tons on the Third street bridge.

(5) No parking on the south side of Pennsylvania avenue, east, just east of the Conewago creek bridge for a distance of 146 feet, or approximately in front of Senefelder's Electric Shop. This will eliminate a traffic bottleneck caused by motorists, eastbound in Pennsylvania avenue, attempting to make a left turn into Conewago avenue. Traffic lines for through traffic and for left turn traffic will be designated.

(6) No parking on the east side of Conewago avenue near the intersection with Pennsylvania avenue.

Another regulation providing for parking on the north side of Third avenue, and no parking on the south side from Pennsylvania avenue, west, to Water street, was held over to next Monday's adjourned meeting for further clarification.

The deed for Memorial Field was turned over to Council President W. E. Rice by Lynn A. Branch. The solons ordered it recorded at the county courthouse. Council is taking title to the field at the request of the War Memorial Board, and a bus trip back to Warren.

The trip will end with a breakfast at the Shrine club in Erie on the morning of June 30th, and a bus trip back to Warren.

Workers In Control Office Get Respite

Washington, June 6—(P)—Some 2,700 federal rent control workers began working on borrowed time today.

Dismissal notices sent them two weeks ago and due to become effective today were cancelled yesterday by housing expediter Tighe E. Woods.

Woods explained that his agency still is "virtually broke" and that the staff can be kept on the books only until June 30. The present federal rent law expires then unless congress votes an extension.

FOREIGN ARMS BILL FAVORED BY BRADLEY

Washington, June 6—(P)—Gen Omar N. Bradley said today the free nations of Europe, if given time and aid, will be able to defend and hold western Europe from attack.

The chairman of the joint chiefs of staff made the statement to the house foreign affairs committee in supporting President Truman's request for $1,222,500,000 to continue foreign arms program for another year.

Bradley said the military aid to Atlantic treaty allies already has brought this nation "one step closer to establishing a reasonable security for ourselves as well as for our friends."

Looking back over the first year of the program, he said "we have confidence in what is being accomplished."

"A year ago, the successful defense of western Europe, in the face of a coordinated enemy attack, was a remote possibility. The military estimates were discouraging."

"But it now appears possible that these European nations, with the help that the United States has given them, and the strength derived from our collective security planning, will—if given time—be able to defend and hold western Europe from attack." (Turn to Page Nine)

Bandit Killed In Greenwich Village Night Club Holdup

New York, June 6—(P)—A running gun battle between police and holdup men in the Greenwich village night club held early today left one bandit dead and two bandits and a bystander wounded.

Two patrons were slugged on the head with gun butts when they resisted three holdup men who invaded the Little Casino Cafe (245 Sullivan street) and fled without loot. Dozens of persons in the crowded neighborhood ducked into doorways as a score of shots were exchanged.

Twenty-five patrons of the cafe, who witnessed the frustrated holdup, poured out into the street in fighting mood.

Two of the bandits were wounded and captured after their getaway car crashed into a construction derrick near Washington Square.

The third fugitive ran into a death trap when he sought refuge in the kitchen of an almost empty cafe nearby, the fashionable Salle de Champagne. He was shot to death there when he was trapped by two policemen and came out shooting.

A patrolman, hearing the robbers shooting in the Little Casino, engaged them in battle as they fled in their car. He wounded two of them. Two other policemen then joined the chase.

The dead man was identified tentatively by police as Harold A. Sellers, 20, of Brooklyn.

Dies of Injuries Sustained In Auto Crash In December

Raymond Brown, 52 year old former resident of Garland, died 1:15 a. m. today in Hamot Hospital in Erie, where he had been confined since December 17, when he was injured in an automobile accident. Death was attributed by hospital authorities to a cerebral hemorrhage.

According to records of the Warren barracks, Pennsylvania State Police, Brown was a passenger in a pickup truck operated by Roy J. Wiler, of Garland, when it overturned on June 17, 1949. (Turn to Page Nine)

BOROUGH COUNCIL TAKES NO ACTION ON FILLING VACANCY IN OFFICE OF CHIEF OF POLICE

Warren Borough council, meeting in the Municipal building last night, elected Robert J. Wilson, of Henry street, as First Ward Councilman to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of T. K. Creal, II.

No action was taken by council on choosing a successor to Police Chief George Haehn, who resigned June 1. The police department, meanwhile, is under the supervision of Police Lieutenants Mike Evan and Geary Bean.

Wilson was elected to fill the councilmanic vacancy on recommendation of First Ward solon W. E. Rice. It is a custom or long standing for council to approve the recommendation of the remaining solon in a ward where a vacancy occurs.

The new solon is an engineer at the Sylvania Electric Products Co., and is president of the Lion's Club of Warren. He will probably take office at the July meeting of council, and will serve until the first Monday in January, 1952.

Creal, who has served actively as chairman of the New Projects Committee, resigned because of the press of private business. His resignation will take effect at the end of an adjourned meeting of council, slated for next Monday night in the Municipal building. A resolution accepting his resignation with regret was approved by the solons.

Numerous other matters involving borough government personnel also were considered.

Most important was adopting of a resolution delegating additional duties to the new borough manager, L. N. McConnell.

The resolution, submitted by Councilman Creal, directs the borough manager to:

(1) Supervise the accounting system in the borough secretary's office;

(2) Coordinate the work and activities of committees and departments, including streets, sidewalks and bridges, sewers, the park department, buildings, airport, scales, flood, and the fire department; and

(3) Sign all purchase orders for the borough.

Creal said the borough manager has no authority on fire control, or in law enforcement, and that he has no power to make any decisions.

"The manager's job," Creal added, "is merely to point out to council and the townspeople the things that will improve the community, to lay the facts before council, and then to carry out whatever decisions council makes." Council President Rice suggested it would help in the smooth running of borough affairs if each

Bids For Big Street Paving Program, And New Equipment Opened By Council

Bids for a big street paving program, a new fire truck, and a new dump truck for the streets department were opened by borough councilmen at their June meeting last night in the Municipal building, but decisions on two of the matters were deferred until an adjourned meeting next Monday night.

The Keystone Construction Co. of Meadville was the lone bidder on the street paving work for South Market, North Parker, North Carver, Canton, Cedar, Linwood, Verbeck, Brook and St. Clair streets. The firm offered to do the work for $103,001, plus additional charges for hourly rent of a bulldozer, a truck and other equipment.

The New Projects committee considered the proposal, and then asked permission to delay a decision on acceptance or rejection of the proposal until an adjourned meeting of council next Monday night at 7:30 o'clock.

The company proposed to do the work in 200 consecutive calendar days. Money for financing the paving will come out of a $220,000 bond issue authorized by council at their May meeting.

Five firms submitted bids for furnishing the borough fire department with a new 1000-gallon pumper truck, another project to be financed out of the bond issue. However, at the request of the fire committee, the solons also delayed a decision on purchase of the truck until next Monday's adjourned meeting.

The bids were: American LaFrance—$14,000. Seagrave Corp.—$14,000. Howe Fire Apparatus Co.—three bids ranging from $14,296.20 to $15,250. Smith Used Parts, Inc., of Warren (Mack truck agency)—$14,309. Freeboro Equipment Corp., Franklin—$13,554.35.

Bids for furnishing the streets department with a two-ton dump truck were read from the Annex Garage (GMC truck, $2,325), Warren County Motors (Studebaker, $2,000), and B. and E. Chevrolet Co. (Chevrolet, $2,200).

On recommendation of the street committee, the solons authorized purchase of the Chevrolet truck.

Groundwork also was laid for several new projects.

A resolution was approved authorizing the new projects committee to have an 18-inch storm sewer in Redwood street between Division and Center street, a distance of 552 feet.

Ordinances were approved on first reading authorizing paving of Redwood street between Fifth and Third avenues, and for an extension of a sanitary sewer in Park street for a distance of 1270 feet northerly from Chapman St.

The twisting of one of the big supporting girders under the Fifth street bridge spanning the Conewago creek last week threw quite a monkey wrench into the borough's improvement program.

New Projects Committee Chairman Creal said the bridge may cost as much as $25,000 to fix and wanted to know where the money for this work would come from.

Finance chairman Leon Laszkaris pointed out that there would be considerable money returned to the borough on paving assessments on property owners as soon as the paving program gets under way.

It also was decided to delay until next year any start on resurfacing of Fourth avenue. This decision was made when George Klinestiver, chairman of the streets committee, reported that New York Central Railroad officials had made no provision for their share of the work in this year's budget.

E. W. Patchen, chairman of the sidewalks and bridges committee, said his committee would delay advertising for bids for a new floor

65 Aboard Huge Twin-Engined Transport Which Disappears On Flight From Puerto Rico

Miami, Fla., June 6—(P)—The destroyer USS Saufley radioed at 9:20 a. m. (EST) today that it had picked up 37 survivors of a twin-engine airplane which crashed into the Atlantic ocean 275 miles north-east of here.

Those saved included the pilot. There was no report on the remainder of the 65 passengers and crewmen who were on the plane.

The destroyer informed coast guard headquarters in Miami that all the survivors picked up were "in good condition."

The destroyer's message: "Recovered 37 survivors. Position 27 degrees 51 minutes north, 75 degrees 32 minutes west. All in rafts pilot believes remainder have life jackets. Continuing coordinate search with planes and picking up all empty rafts."

The pilot's belief that all the missing passengers had life jackets raised hopes that the loss of life would be small.

However, a B-17 coming in to Navy master field to refuel radioed the coast guard that the survivors included 34 passengers and three crew members.

Among the crew members saved, the plane reported, were Pilot Joseph Halsey, of Seattle, Wash., and Co-Pilot William Holleran.

The plane added "Doubt if there are any more survivors."

The pilot of a coast guard LBY plane which returned to St. Petersburg reported the rescued pilot also doubted any more survivors would be found.

Earlier, a coast guard aircraft circling over the rescue scene, reported 33 survivors were found. But another plane of the Westair Company which participated in the search reported seeing 45 in the life rafts.

All the passengers were migratory workers from Puerto Rico, en route to the United States.

A coast guard aircraft, circling over the rescue scene, reported 33 survivors were found. But another plane of the Westair Company which participated in the search reported seeing 45 in the life rafts.

All the passengers were migratory workers from Puerto Rico, en route to the United States.

The plane was en route from San Juan Puerto Rico to Wilmington, N. C., when a motor failed. It made a futile attempt to reach Nassau.

The destroyer USS Saufley started picking up the survivors from five life rafts at 7:30 a. m. (EST) as coast guard and commercial planes hovered overhead, coast guard cutters, freighters and other vessels were in the area.

There was no immediate indication as to the fate of the missing passengers.

The rescue came almost exactly a year after a transport plane went into the Atlantic on the takeoff from San Juan, Puerto Rico to Miami, killing 53 persons.

The date was June 7, 1949. Survivors were plucked from the sea today less than 10 hours after the stricken aircraft's pilot messaged "It looks like I'm going into the drink."

The time was then 10:06 p. m. (EST). Veteran Pilot Joseph Halsey, of Seattle, Wash., radioed one engine was out and he was flying at 200 feet and losing altitude rapidly.

He said he was trying to reach Nassau in the Bahamas.

After that nothing more was heard of the plane.

Coast Guard Air Sea Rescue headquarters went into action immediately, sending an armada of air and surface craft rushing toward the area. Ships at sea were diverted from their course.

An hour later a sister plane, circling the area, reported it sighted a flare and a flashlight blinking out an S. O. S.

The sister plane was flying south from Wilmington. It remained at the scene until its fuel supply ran low, then flew into Nassau for more.

At 5:45 a. m. (EST) a coast guard plane based at Elizabeth City, N. C., radioed tersely "Sighted survivors" (Turn to Page Nine)

Sidewalk On Glade Bridge Damaged By Fire Started Underneath Structure

Sparks and embers from a rubbish pile of old timbers caused Warren firemen and Bell Telephone Company employees considerable work this morning when the sidewalk on the Glade bridge caught fire.

Workers replacing the floor in the bridge had taken some of the old timbers to the point of the island under the center of the structure to burn them, and as the fire flared up, the sidewalk started burning, destroying about 60 feet of it. The fire did not spread to the bridge floor.

Engines One, Two and the ladder truck responded to the call at 8:58 a. m. and laid 1150 feet of 2½ inch hose from a pumper to knock down the fire. Creosote on the wood made it burn fiercely and firemen had to use water pressure to knock some of the boards out of place. Firemen spent about an hour on the job before returning to stations.

A large cable of the Bell Telephone Company had its sheath melted in four places, allowing wires in the cable to become wet. These are being dried out, and it was expected that service would be largely restored by noon today.

The cable carries 107 pairs of local wires and about 350 pairs of local wires to the Clarendon area. Damage was principally to the local wires and a few toll circuits to Sheffield.

Threatened Strike May Shut Off Milk To Seven Counties

Pittsburgh, June 6—(P)—A seven county western Pennsylvania area is threatened with a strike which would shut off retail and wholesale deliveries of milk, ice cream and other dairy products.

The threat developed when members of AFL Local 205, Milk and Ice Cream Salesmen and Dairy Employees, rejected an offer of the industry last night. The group voted 20 to 1 a month ago to strike unless its wage demands were met.

A union committee said it will meet today with representatives of the Greater Pittsburgh Milk Dealers Association to present the union's counter-offer. Federal and state negotiators will stand by. No strike date has been set.

The meeting will be the 23rd the union has had with the industry since March. The contract expired last May 1. The union has notified Mayor David L. Lawrence and County Commission Chairman John J. Kane that a walkout of 3,600 drivers appears to be inevitable.

Another union committee will meet with Norman Oschenhirt of the Allegheny County Medical Society to notify him of plans to make deliveries to hospitals, homes for the aged and other such public and private institutions in the event of a strike.

The union said it will maintain similar deliveries in seven counties which would be affected—Allegheny, Beaver, Butler, Washington, Greene, Lawrence and Fayette.

The walkout, if it takes place, will be the first industry-wide milk strike in the area.

Violent Deaths In Nation Decreasing

(By The Associated Press)

The nation's violent deaths over a four-day weekend was running more than 50 under last weekend's extended Memorial Day holiday.

The biggest decline in the toll was in traffic fatalities. In the current survey beats on the highways numbered 199 as compared to "58 for a similar period last weekend.

The overall total since 6 p. m. last Friday was 342. The count on the morning of Memorial Day since the preceding Friday night was nearly 400. The survey is being made to give a non-holiday week-end comparison with the death toll for a 102-hour Memorial Day holiday this year when 571 died in violent accidents.

This weekend's drownings—61—was above the 65 reported last Tuesday morning. Deaths from miscellaneous causes today were 82 as compared to 81 on Memorial Day morning.

ANDERSON POLITICAL GANG IS NOW HOUSED UNDER A SINGLE ROOF

(A Democratic Editorial)

Mel Anderson was "elected" vice chairman in much the same manner. Which means that should Stooze Papavero decide that he no longer cares to look after the destinies of the county committee his boss, Edgar Bergen Anderson, will automatically ascend the throne and take over the cares of state. Stranger things have happened. And this is in an organization that is supposed to uphold the principles of Democracy where we have been taught that the majority rules. The mandate of all the voters in Warren borough, in which municipality Mel Anderson sought to be elected burgess, it was plainly demonstrated by both Democrats and Republicans that they wanted none of him. His defeat for the office of burgess was overwhelming and his defeat for the office of member of the Democrat State Committee was just as overwhelming when it is considered that only Democrats were called upon to vote for or against him. In the "election" of Papavero and Anderson at the committee meeting last Thursday night blatantly illegal political gangster tactics were brought into play in their most sordid manner. Untruths were told galore. Promises were used as bribes to secure votes, promises that were impossible to fill.

The "election" continued, the next order of business being the selection of a secretary. Stooze Mike, in a few well chosen words extolled the virtues and capabilities of Mrs. Katherine Peck, a resident of Sheffield, who registered as a Democrat on June 1st, the day the committee meeting was held. It must have been a queer coincidence, but it was brought out that Mrs. Peck is an employee of the Anderson establishment, her duties being to act as bookkeeper and private secretary to Mel himself, but now her duties will be greatly expanded to looking after the far-flung interests of the county committee, if and when the ascendancy of Bergen Anderson and Stooze Mike is ever confirmed. It will be one of her duties to take care of all correspondence in relation to the appointment of postmasters and other federal positions. The number of letters she will be required to write in answer to postmaster inquiries alone should keep her busy, as about half the Anderson-Papavero Democrats in Warren county have been promised either post offices or jobs of some kind. The task of taking care of this correspondence will be somewhat lessened due to the fact that the entire Anderson-Papavero organization is housed under one roof, that of the Hotel Carver. The committee meetings are held in the Carver dining room and in the future all activities of the Democrats in Warren county will ebb and flow from one location. We almost forgot to mention our old friend Delena Giddens, an old Anderson-Papavero hand, who was "elected" treasurer under the new regime. For several months prior to Thursday night Delena had been known as secretary of the county committee, she having been elevated along with Mike and Mel, taking the place vacated by Mike. We don't know whether her being named treasurer was a promotion or a kick down the cellar. With all the expected donations from prospective postmasters that she will be called upon to administer, the new job might be considered a boost.

It is clear to the least observing that the Democrats of Warren county have been "betrayed" or "sold down the river" by Bergen Anderson and his Stooze. Mussolini did it to the people of Italy. Hitler did it to the people of Germany in the same kind of elections that Stooze Papavero conducted last Thursday. Do we have a fifth column right here in Warren county? The Democrat voters should give this serious consideration. Joe Stalin runs the same kind of elections. The county committee election last Thursday did not have the least shred of legality. According to the rules of the Democrat county committee, Stooze Papavero was never authorized to call a meeting, such a meeting, according to the rules, should have been called by the first vice chairman.

After the "high honor" bestowed upon him by the assembled committee men and women the "Honorable" Mike made a stirring speech of acceptance in which he extolled the accomplishments of himself and his boss, Bergen Anderson. He made a rousing plea for harmony, not only in the committee membership, but in the entire membership of the Democrat party in the state and nation. Mike didn't know the word harmony existed until after he had succeeded in having himself "elected" chairman. That Stooze Papavero is bent on usurping control of the party for his boss, even to the cost of smashing the party in Warren county is borne out by his actions in refusing to confer with the newly elected State Committeeman, C. Henry Nicholson, who tried in vain for six days prior to the Thursday meeting to confer with Papavero in an effort to bring about harmony. Mr. Nicholson made at least a dozen telephone calls in his efforts to make a date for a conference, but these calls amounted to nothing as far as Papavero was concerned. Finally he sent Mike a registered letter offering to be available for a conference at any time that would suit Papavero's convenience, to discuss matters that would lead to harmony and party unity. Papavero doesn't want harmony or unity. He wants a job and above all he thinks that Mel Anderson is the man to get him that job. A Stooze must answer to the strings manipulated by the boss. A dictator makes all the rules and "elects" himself.

The vast majority of the Democrats of Warren county have been betrayed by a Benedict Arnold, a Stooze dangling on the strings pulled by an unscrupulous boss who is determined to rule the Democrat party in Warren county by any manner of means, by the strong arm methods of the underworld—his way—or else.

In my more than sixty years on this mortal sphere I have met many ingrates. They have come from all walks of life, but I believe where ingratitude has reached the 10th degree is in the case of Mike Papavero. I have done many nice things for Mike. I have secured many jobs for him, in fact the very first job Mike ever had was given to him by a Walker, my father. This job was carrying the old Evening Democrat in Sheffield. If he has told me once about this first job, he has told me about it a hundred times. The last job he ever had, where he received regular pay, came originally through my efforts. This job was in the Auditor General's Department of the State of Pennsylvania. This was a fairly good job as jobs go in these days of high finance, but Mike was never satisfied. He was much like the storied Oliver Twist, "give me more, give me more," but Mike had about reached the top of the ladder where his capabilities would take him. Mike was always a prolific letter writer. I have a stack of those letters a foot high and in almost every one of these letters he begged us to get him a better job. We tried to do it, but it just wasn't in the wood. He had reached the top. Several times when there was a vacancy in the postmastership in Sheffield he could have had that place, but each time he failed to pass the examination. He wanted to be a deputy revenue collector in the U. S. Internal Revenue Department. We went about fixing that for him, but once again he fell by the wayside. The old gray matter just wouldn't carry him through. It was always the same old story, we were willing, but Mike just couldn't make the grade. Mike had his nose in the public trough for more years than any Democrat in the history of Warren county. Last February Mike met a fellow Democrat on the street and as usual he was crying about not having a job. He told this Democrat that he was out hellbent for Mel Anderson and that because the old organization would not get him a Federal job he was going to do everything in his power to throw control of the county organization to Anderson. "That would ruin the party and would serve them right," he said.

Mike has always been telling about how the Republicans would give him a job if he would only come back into the fold. (You probably don't know it, but it wasn't so long ago that he was a registered Republican). He recently told that Allen Gibson had offered him a job if he would register again as a Republican. Knowing Mr. Gibson and other Republican leaders we know that this statement was an untruth. We don't think any Republican would offer him a job, even one as a flea swatter in a monkey cage. If such a job was to be offered him we doubt if he could accept it owing to the entrance examinations that would doubtless be required.

The honest, God fearing, truth loving Democrats of Warren county will rise up in their might and see to it that justice is done and that such people as Mel Anderson and his Stooze, Mike Papavero, are put in their proper place.

Much Interest Is Shown In Tour Being Made By Bookmobile From Erie County

The first county-wide tour of a library on wheels started in Warren county yesterday. Children swarmed into the Erie County Bookmobile when stops were made at the Irvinedale School in Glade Township and Washington School at Clarendon Heights, and also in the playground in Sheffield. Miss Marian Kelly, visiting librarian, said after a day that started at 8:30

Erie Third Largest City In the State

Erie—(P)—Erie has become the third largest city in Pennsylvania with a population of 130,123, census figures showed today.

The lake city unseated Scranton in the third place slot behind Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. Scranton now is fourth with 123,000 persons.

In releasing preliminary figures, census supervisor Raymond W. Foley said there should be a slight increase in his figure when final computations are made later in the year.

The 1950 census represents an 11 per cent increase over a decade ago. In 1940 Erie was the state's fourth place city with 116,953.

Observers estimated the population in the metropolitan Erie area is about 160,000, an increase of about 28,000. The only figures released by Foley cover the city proper.

Youngsville Has A Vacation Bible School This Summer

Youngsville, June 6—Four churches were represented Monday in the three vacation Bible schools which opened at 9 a. m. Methodist and Evangelical United Brethren churches were represented at the school held in the E.U.B. church, The Saron Lutheran Bible school was held in its church, West Main street, and the Free Methodist group met in its church on East Main street. Each group started with a good attendance and interest and will continue until Friday, June 16th, with picnics and final program open to the public.

Brokenstraw creek is rather high and some people about town have water in their basements and water is over the road in some places but so far the water condition is so much better than many springs in the past that it is not good taste to complain.

Robert Knapp and family are moving into their newly-constructed home on College street, extension. They are vacating the apartment at 309 East Main street, which they have occupied for the past eight years.

Dr. and Mrs. John Zelliff and daughter, Cynthia, who have been visiting the doctor's parents Mr. and Mrs. John Zelliff, Sr., and others in this vicinity, have returned to their home, 528 Main street, Woodruff, S. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hannold recently visited New York City.

Among Youngsville folks spending a weekend at their Chautauqua Lake cottages were Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Johnson, Mrs. Nellie Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Forest Rapp, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Anderson.

Youngsville Girl Scouts are selling Girl Scout cookies.

Clint McAllister, who has been ill at his home for some little time, is reported improving.

Mrs. Charles Deshner, of Endeavor, was the guest of her son, Stanley Deshner, and family from Friday until Sunday. Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Deshner were Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wert, of German Hill.

Former Resident Of Latvia Is Speaker At Rotary Meeting

Warren Rotary Club meeting Monday at the YWCA activities building, was addressed by Alvars Baumanis, formerly of Latvia and now a resident of Warren and student in local schools.

He stated that as a small boy living in Europe he thought of America as a place where Indians were behind every tree waiting to pounce on everyone.

In European schools, he said, all subjects are compulsory and the student must take three or more languages, all sciences, mathematics, music, drawing, and military exercises rather than physical education.

The students sat two or three at one desk, with the boys on one side of the room and the girls on the other. There was much stricter discipline and no talking or whispering was allowed, and students had no voice in the running of the school.

He stated that he was amazed to see so many cars, washing machines, radios and mechanical devices in American homes, as these things in Europe were only for the very wealthy.

He concluded with the statement that in no other country have men more freedom than in North America.

William F. Crossett was formally welcomed into the club as a new member.

GRADUATE—Warren E. Carr, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Carr, North Main street, Youngsville, received a bachelor of science degree from Geneva College at commencement exercises held in Reeves Stadium at 10 a. m. today. His parents were in Beaver Falls to attend the graduation festivities. At Geneva, Carr has been active in the Mathematics Club and the YMCA. Before entering Geneva, he spent two years at Clarion State Teachers College, where he was active in both football and wrestling. He was graduated from Youngsville High School with the Class of '45 and is a Navy veteran.

On June 15th, he will report back to Great Lakes for one week, after which he will go to Key West, Fla., for sonar and submarine schooling. Young Holden was graduated last year from Pleasantville High School.

SAYS SELF-SERVICE GAS STATION ILLEGAL

Pittsburgh — (AP)—Self-service gasoline stations don't have a chance of opening in Allegheny county or the rest of the state, county fire marshal, Peter J. McGurk said today.

McGurk, who said he has received several inquiries about starting the self service stations, declared:

"I will refuse any requests to operate such stations in Allegheny county. They are clearly barred by the state law requiring an attendant to be present at all times to handle inflammables.

In agreement was director Ross E. Blodgett of the fire chiefs association. He said:

"You'd really have some fireworks with no attendant around to warn drivers about their cigarettes and to refuse gas to drunks."

Sheffield Cubs To Hold County Fair On Playgrounds

Sheffield, June 6—A county fair will be held by the Cub Scouts of Pack 35, Washington grade school, from 2:30 to 5:30 p. m. Saturday at the Memorial playground. Everyone is welcome to attend the fair which will be started by a parade of the Cub Scouts from the playground to the downtown business loop and back.

As patrons enter the fairgrounds money to be spent will be exchanged for Cub currency. Each of the six dens in the pack are making and will operate their own stands. Even the den mothers will have a stand—a refreshment stand.

One den plans to have a fish pond; another a shooting gallery where you may try to extinguish candle flames with a water pistol; a toss ball game; can rubber pitch; dart throwing; and even a live duck around whose neck you will try to pitch rings.

The Cubs will have their own county sheriff at the fair which will have other events such as tug-of-war and a weight-guessing stand.

At the meeting last night of the Sheffield township supervisors held in the township building Sheffield's volunteer firemen were granted exclusive use of the room on the second floor of the building. William Dalton and Harold Elmquist were present at the meeting to request use of the space by the firemen only.

Other business included acceptance of a bid for gravel from the General Concrete Products company. The gravel will be used when blacktopping various Barnes roads this summer.

All supervisors, Carl J. Anderson, C. J. Jeffords and A. M. Boardman, were present for the meeting last night.

Sheffield's volunteer fire department will bring their weekly summer practice sessions this evening at 6:30 p. m. with the group to meet at the township building. A meeting will follow at 9 p. m. and all volunteer firemen are urged to be present. Refreshments also will be served.

This evening at 8 p. m. the Loyalty Bible class of the Bethany Lutheran church will meet at the church for the regular June meeting with Mrs. J. D. Whyte, Mrs. William Angle, Miss Mabel Nelson and Mrs. Frank Byrne as the hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. John Younie, Erie, are the parents of a daughter, Lynnette Ann, born Sunday at Hamot hospital, Erie. Lynnette Ann is their first child. Mrs. Younie is the former Margaret Benson, daughter of the Joseph D. Bensons of Sheffield.

Last evening 23 members of the Progressive Woman's club met at the Jones camp, Cherry Grove, for the final meeting of the club year which was held in the form of a picnic. During the brief business session the club president, Mrs. Robert L. Jones, thanked the members for their cooperation during the past year. Next year's president, Miss Mary Richwalsky, named committees for the coming club year.

The meeting of the Homebuilders class of the First Methodist church will be held at 8 p. m. tonight in the home of Mrs. A. D. Brammer. Devotional leader will be Mrs. Evelyn P. Gailor. Mrs. Sanford Secor and Mrs. Fred M. Carlson will be the entertainment committee. Mrs. Claude Landers, Mrs. Stanley Seaman's and Mrs. Carr will serve the refreshments.

SPEAKER KNOWN HERE
Charles F. Kottcamp, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Kottcamp, 18 Russell street, chief turbine engineer for Gulf Oil Association at Pittsburgh, told the Jeannette Rotary Club last evening the chief hurdle to gas turbine application is the problem of adapting it to use a cheap fuel. He said gas turbine engines may be powering ships, field power, plants and motor trucks in a few years.

FIGHTING PHEASANTS
A pair of fighting pheasants were responsible for an unusual accident north of Cambridge Springs last week. Frank Stybroski stopped his car suddenly to avoid running over the birds which were battling in the middle of the highway. When his car stopped an auto driven by William Waid, Cambridge Springs, R. D. 1, also halted but was rammed from behind by a car operated by Andrew Consiglio, Meadville, throwing the Waid vehicle into Stybroski's machine. Waid and Consiglio paid fines when arraigned before a justice of the peace for motor code violations.

PLANTING HELD UP
Recent wet weather has held up the planting of corn around Pennsylvania, the State Department of Agriculture says. Expressing concern over the delay in planting, the department also said yesterday that wet soils have caused some seed to rot in the ground. Cultivating and field work in general have been delayed by the heavy rains, the department added. Touching on other farm production, the department reported that wheat continued its rapid growth with early oats also developing fast. In its weekly survey, the department reported peaches and apples growing to size although some western counties reported loss from freezing at blossom time.

ARMS AID FOR CHINA

So long as Russia goes on probing for weak spots everywhere on the globe, the United States can't safely avoid extending military help to free peoples who need it.

We recognized this reality last year when Congress voted $1,314,000,000 for arms aid to Europe and the Far East. Now President Truman has requested a slightly smaller sum, $1,222,500,000, to continue the program another year.

There's not much doubt that Congress will again approve substantial arms assistance, though vigorous isolationist efforts will be made to block or at least reduce it. Arming our friends may not prevent a new war, but it will make it more remote.

Mr. Truman's plan calls for $1,000,000,000 in aid to North Atlantic treaty countries, $120,000,000 for Greece and Turkey, $27,500,000 for Iran, Southern Korea and the Philippines, and $75,000,000 for the "general area of China."

In the opinion of Bruce Bissatt, NEA Service editorial writer, the last feature seems unnecessarily vague, if not downright evasive. Mainland China is in Communist hands and the difficulties of getting help to the very active guerrilla forces are extreme. Moreover, there's no sign we intend to offer all-out aid to embattled Nationalist armies on Formosa, which may soon feel the weight of Red attack.

Practically speaking, the requested $75,000,000 must be marked largely for Southeast Asia, where Communist elements are fighting a hot war in Indo-China and Malaya that could carry the whole region into the Russian fold.

The U. S. has already promised military aid to Indo-China out of existing funds voted for the "general area of China." But informed guesses have set this original help at $15,000,000, and it is assumed considerably more will be needed there to fend off the Reds.

Why not say the new $75,000,000 is for Southeast Asia? That whole area is looking hopefully to this country for an indication that we are wholeheartedly behind the southern Asiatics in their resistance to communism. A bold statement that they have our material backing would exert a tonic effect upon them.

Possibly Mr. Truman used the phrase "general area of China" because he wants to appease lawmakers who are still highly disturbed at China's fall. But surely any congressman who reads the papers realizes that China is lost for some time to come and Southeast Asia is the real battlefield now.

Given the opportunity, young American Indians rank with the brightest, most talented young men and women in our land, says the Association on American Indian Affairs in announcing results of the first annual Opportunity Fellowships competition. American Indians received six of the 42 awards to outstanding young persons whose membership in underprivileged groups has proved a barrier to full achievement. One-year grants range from $300 to $3,000. The six young Indians—five from the West, one from Alaska—intend to use their fellowships for further study or training "which will benefit their country and their people, as well as themselves."

According to Clarke Beach, writing for DeWitt MacKenzie, Associated Press foreign affairs analyst, the results of the Belgian and Japanese elections bear out this fact: Communism has been losing ground in nearly all countries where free elections have been held since April, 1948. The Japanese Communists lost two of their three seats in the House of Councillors. The Belgian Communists lost six of their 12 seats in the House of Representatives.

The first visit to Warren under the new plan of the Red Cross Bloodmobile will be made next week, and those in charge have every confidence that the people of the community will provide the blood expected of it. Warren did not fail in time of war, and should not fail now, particularly since an ample supply of blood would prove a great boon to both hospitals.

Something different in the way of news developed this morning when the fire department was called out to extinguish a blaze on the bridge crossing the Allegheny river at Glade.

A New York man was given two years in prison for breaking into a pool room. One miscue, and he's behind the eight ball.

A Canadian boy won a cake-baking contest against ten girls. Doubtless, he knew they were coming.

It's Either a Feast or a Famine—

Here And There

Wildcat Park, located on Roosevelt Highway, U. S. Route 6, one mile east of Ludlow, owned and operated by the Ludlow Community Association, will be the scene of the picnic of Trinity Memorial church school, Wednesday, July 19. That reminds us, we recently received some literature from the park officials that contains some most interesting information. It states that "the park in its setting among the beautiful hills typical of this section of Pennsylvania, and with its spacious woodlands, trout streams, trails, mineral water spring, and mountain water, is truly a natural park. The picnic areas, shelters and other facilities have been located to take full advantage of the natural surroundings. The total investment in land, improvements and facilities is over $115,000. The park is accessible by trains, and large organizations can make arrangements with the Pennsylvania Railroad for special transportation. Large and small picnics are welcomed, as well as churches, reunions and other organizations."

The park contains 64 acres of park land; has a baseball field, softball field and athletic field with grandstand and bleacher seating capacity of 1,500. The Walter Lloyd shelter is equipped with electricity and table capacity of 300. DeForest pavilion, is built of native stone, equipped with gas hot plates, electricity, toilets, refrigerator and large fireplace, and there is an auxiliary shelter equipped with gas and electricity with table capacity of 100. Playground area is equipped with swings, slides, jungle gym, gymnastic bars and rings, seesaws, including special equipment for kiddies. There are gas hot plates throughout the park, spring water, sanitary toilets, four tennis courts, volleyball and basketball courts, swimming and wading pools, four horseshoe courts, and what is of more importance, parking space for over 2,000 cars.

This And That: Some idea of the magnitude of the building projects either under way or contemplated at the Warren State Hospital may be had from the report of the Department of Property and Supplies, Bureau of Engineering and Construction, Harrisburg, which lists the following: Admission costing $1,697,708; water supply, $94,261; correcting electrical hazards, $293,394; roof repairs, $100,002. Agreements, Orders Tend to Stabilize Farmers' Markets

BY PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The growing extent to which Department of Agriculture "marketing agreements" and "marketing orders" are used to control production and sales of perishable farm products is little realized.

The principal products covered are milk, fruits, vegetables, nuts and hops. There are now in effect 35 milk marketing orders. There are 28 fruit and vegetable agreements and orders. As some of the agreements cover whole states or several states in a commercial growing area, they really take in a lot of territory and a lot of production.

Let any farmer under a marketing order violate his contract, however, and there is the pipe to pay. Civil suits may be filed and court injunctions issued to prevent further violation of the order and to enforce compliance. Civil action may also be filed to secure triple damages—three times the value of the product shipped in violation of the order.

Finally, criminal action may be taken. Convicted violators of an order may be fined from $50 to $500 for each violation. And every day's non-compliance counts as a separate violation.

MARKETING orders are issued by the secretary of Agriculture. The orders are binding on all the handlers of the commodity, regardless of whether they sign and approve the order or not.

Marketing orders apply principally to metropolitan milksheds. Boston, Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Clinton (Iowa), Columbus, Dayton-Springfield, Dubuque, Duluth, Fall River, Fort Wayne, Kansas City, Knoxville, Lima, Louisville, Lowell-Lawrence, Minneapolis-St. Paul, Nashville, New Orleans, New York, Omaha-Council Bluffs, Paducah, Philadelphia, Quad Cities (Ill.), St. Louis, Sioux City, South Bend, Springfield (Mass.), Toledo, Topeka, Wichita, Worcester, and the area where Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia come together are covered today.

Marketing agreements are much more loose arrangements. They are voluntary contracts entered into between the secretary of Agriculture and the growers. Growers who don't sign the agreement don't have to abide by its restrictions.

Among the more important agreements now in effect are these: Arizona-California oranges, grapefruit and lemons. Florida oranges, grapefruit and tangerines.

California Tokay grapes, Bartlett pears, plums and peaches. California dried prunes and raisins. Colorado fresh peas and cauliflower. California, Oregon and Washington winter pears. Colorado, Georgia and Utah peaches.

OREGON and Washington filberts. California, Oregon and Washington walnuts. Alabama, Florida, Georgia, South Carolina and Mississippi pecans. California, Oregon, Washington and Idaho hops. Potatoes are under agreements in Colorado, California, Oregon, Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, North Dakota, Washington, New Jersey and Maine.

The secretary of Agriculture must also approve the order, so he has a kind of veto power to check bad orders and agreements. If amendments are sought for any order, the secretary must approve. Most orders and agreements are made for one, two or three years.

In justifying what might in some sense be considered this "regimentation" of farmers, the Department of Agriculture points out that these agreements and orders do not directly stabilize prices. They do stabilize markets. Any prices set are minimum prices that must be paid to producers. They do not set retail prices, though they influence them.

GETTING THEIR FUNDAMENTALS—Elementary schoolboys are shown getting instructions in holding an oar from George Hooper, captain of the Thames Tradesmen's Club, in Mortlake, Surrey, England. The club teaches rowing to boys who may later advance to the Oxford or Cambridge crews.

EASY COME—HARD GO—Bela (Dracula) Lugosi, famed for years for his movie and stage portrayals of a human vampire preying upon the blood of fair ladies, looks horrified as Red Cross Nurse Henrietta Roger tests his hemoglobin at the New York Donor Center of the R. C. Blood Program.

LEARNING THEIR LINES—Shown rehearsing for a new film in Hollywood are Gertrude Lawrence and Arthur Kennedy, who play mother and son in the picture. But you won't see them in these clothes because Miss Lawrence will appear in something more matronly than slacks and a brightly-checked blouse.

THEY'RE BOTH FRECKLED—And no one could be blamed for seeing spots before his eyes while looking at Charles Harris, 10, of Washington, D. C., and his dog, Peggy. Charles was arriving in New York from Caracas aboard the Santa Paula.

PECK-A-BOO—Actor Gregory Peck with his wife and children peek at the cameraman upon their return to New York from England. Peck just completed a new picture over there for an American company.

HIGH FLYERS—Two pigeons owned by Hiroshi Someya, a dentist in Tokyo, flew non-stop from Aomori, a distance of about 400 miles, in record time to win the carrier pigeons race, with a prize of 30,000 yen ($85) and a silver cup. The 37-year-old dentist is happily displaying his pets.

MUST BE A NEW TRICK—At a joint convention in Chicago, Ill., Harlan Tarbell, left, President of the Society of American Magicians, impales cards on a sword after they've been tossed into the air by Russ Walsh. More than 1000 prestidigitators attended the four-day convention in the Windy City.

SHE'S TESTING—Pretty Jean Eryes, of Brooklyn, is making a personal test of the ventilating system of the new Brooklyn-Battery Tunnel. Engineers say the system can change the air completely 42 times an hour in the tunnel which is the longest and deepest vehicular tube in the Western Hemisphere.

VICTORIOUS GOLFER—Frank Stranahan, 28, of Toledo, O., holds the British Amateur Championship Cup after winning it in the golf tourney at St. Andrews, Scotland. Stranahan, also the 1948 winner, defeated fellow-American Dick Chapman of Pinhurst, N. C.

A WAGON TRAIN ALL THEIR OWN—When Walter Rishel, of Redwood City, Calif., first towed his kids around the neighborhood in their wagons, attached to his jeep, he started a project that grew and grew. When the kiddies' wagon train operates now, the passengers list seldom numbers less than 35, and more often it's 40.

Musical Revue Tonight Is Staged As Benefit for Community Canteen Fund

The Community Youth Canteen Fund is expected to get a big boost from proceeds of the musical revue, "Settin' the Pace", which is to be presented by the Hal Garvin Dance Studios at 8:30 this evening in the Woman's Club auditorium.

Opening number on the program will consist of the junior line with Diane Rinnalla, Marian Caporali, Antonette Caporali, Mary Lou Crisman, Mary Jo Cronmiller, Katy Moran, Joyce McMillen, Rose Anna Oberg, Joan Cliequennol, Peggy Williams, and Susan Lawson.

The senior line includes Margerie Canella, Kathleen Brown, Dixie Andrea, Carol Andrees, Nancy Jones, Mary Morse, Sally Saunders, and Robert Saunders.

Numbers will head up under "Baby Ballerinas and Their Dances", "Life Guts Tee-jus, Don't It", "Ye Olde Philosopher", "The Twisters", "Jitter Jive", "Diversa", "Modern Dance", "Irish Jig", "I'm An Indian Too", "Tepee Shuffle", and an acrobatic solo.

On the second part of the program are "Buckets and Shovels", "Boardwalk Clog", "The Jesters", "Piano Music", "Dancing Lesson", "Winter Time", "The Southern Touch", "Butterfly Ballet", "Two Fancy Free Sailors", and "There's No Business Like Show Business".

Committee Planning Presbyterian Festival

A committee meeting to discuss the fall festival of the First Presbyterian church was held at the home of Mrs. Ralph Sures, who has been appointed general chairman.

Twenty-one representatives of the various circles of the newly formed Woman's Association were present, and enthusiasm ran high as plans were made to make this event more outstanding than the successful festival of last year.

Permission having been received from Drew Pearson, the fair is to be called "The Washington Merry-go-round", and various divisions of our government will be Department, Commerce, Post Office Interior, and others.

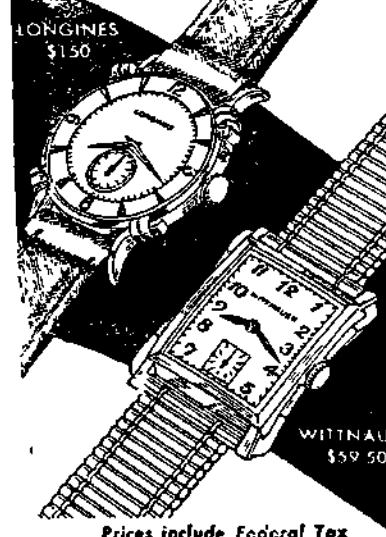

Sept. 21 is the date, and all members of the church are busy with preparations to make this an outstanding event.

Further details will be given as plans go forward. It is expected that many of current political figures will be represented in various ways.

Exchange Teacher To Be Speaker At Lander

Miss Rose Mary Wilcox, exchange teacher to England, will talk on her experiences in foreign countries as guest speaker at the annual banquet held by the alumni of Lander High school Saturday at eight p. m. at the Lander community house. Slides will be shown to illustrate the talk.

A barbershop quartet, the Silver Chords, of Jamestown, will furnish the music.

The price for the dinner includes dues, and all who have not made reservations are urged to do so immediately.

DORCAS CLASS HAS BUSY MEETING

About 30 members were present for the regular meeting of First Lutheran Dorcas Class. The business session opened with all singing "Lead Us, Heavenly Father," and a reading, "God Has a Plan For Us", was given by Elsie Rian for devotion. A letter was read from the Bethesda Home, expressing thanks for canned fruits sent by the class last fall, and it was decided to do canning for the home again this season.

Mrs. Lena Schaeffer, probation officer of Warren county, gave an interesting talk concerning her work with children of the county and Miss Frances Schimmelfong told of her work among the aged.

It was decided to hold the next meeting June 29, in the form of a picnic at the Ristau cottage on the Allegheny River. The following committees will be in charge: Refreshments, Martha Schueitz, Mary Rapp, Martha Lawson, Mabel Decker, Bernice Swanson and Frances Stover; entertainment, Hazel Witz and Regina Arnold.

ENGAGEMENT TOLD

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Van Sickle, of Corydon, announce the engagement of their daughter, Celeste, to Edward Hutton Gallup, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Gallup, Jr., Mt. Lebanon, Pittsburgh.

Miss Van Sickle attended local schools, was graduated from Bradford High School with the Class of 1945, and from Wilson College with the Class of 1948. She is currently employed at Tufts College, Boston, Mass.

Mr. Gallup was graduated from Shady Side Academy, Pittsburgh, and is attending Harvard College.

Warren Boy Choir to Stage Big Variety Concert June 14-15

Warren people of all ages will thrill to two big nights of music and entertainment next week when Byron Swanson's 1950 Warren Boy Choir makes its first local full-dress appearance on the stage of the high school auditorium June 14 and 15.

Already Sheffield, Youngsville and Tidoute audiences have been enthralled by the youthful aggregation of chorists in their new uniforms and a whole new show, which ranges from the most difficult sacred and secular classics through well-loved popular numbers to sheer, effervescent comedy.

In a fast-moving, four-section program, the boys' new repertoire appeals to everyone who loves vocal music at its best, and competent critics report the choir has grown to an amazing musical stature that is fast placing it in the front ranks of the finest vocal organizations to be heard anywhere.

This year, for the first time, the Warren Boy Choir appears, under the sponsorship of the Warren Kiwanis Club, and part of the proceeds of the two gala performances will be devoted to the fine work of that very active civic group.

Adult and student tickets for both shows are available at the B and B Smoke Shop and Geraci's Restaurant, as well as from members of the Kiwanis Club and the Warren Boy Choir. From present indications, the boys will sing to packed houses both evenings, and those desiring tickets should obtain them promptly. The show starts promptly at 8 o'clock both Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

Members of the choir this season, under the inspired direction of Byron Swanson of the Warren Conservatory of Music, are the following Warren and Sheffield boys: David Anundson, Ray Bennett, Dean Berghund, Billy Carlsson, Martin Carlson, Robert Cling-

Awaiting Big Occasion

L'il Dragon, tricky little mascot of the Warren High School Class of 1950, all worn out from Class Night festivities and anxious to be off to Midway for the Class Picnic this afternoon, nevertheless took time out to don his cap and gown and show the staff photographer just how he will look when he steps forth to receive his diploma at commencement exercises Thursday evening.

Cars left the high school about one o'clock this afternoon to take the seniors to the lake, with L'il Dragon right in the midst of the most excitement. Assisting the four class officers, Diana DeMarco, John Daley, Audrey Kierman and Charles Reese, with the picnic arrangements have been Ruth Anderson, Delores Olson, Robert DeVore, Carl Smith, Frank Chiodo, and Carol Olsson.

Places were set for about 215, with faculty, wives and husbands numbering 40, at tables made very attractive with garden and wild flowers and maroon candles. In keeping with the class colors, places were marked by maroon mortarboards with white tassels.

For the school colors, blue and white crepe paper streamers were festooned about the walls and an enlarged L'il Dragon occupied a place of honor on one wall. A surprise for the class members was provided in a small drawing of L'il Dragon, suitable for framing, which marked each guest's place and was a gift from the Times-Mirror.

Committees working on last night's program were: Decorations—Eleanor Rieg and Roger Parfitt, co-chairmen; Bob McDannel, Jane Toner, Marilyn Brasington, L. G. Furman, Betty Lucia, Betty Scrivano, Helen Bennett, Gilmore Samuelson, and John Masterson.

Invitations—Marie Klenck, chairman; Rosemary McLaughlin, Lillian Eustice, JoAnn Ettinger, and Jennie Mangin.

Favors—Marilyn Dietsch, chairman; Mary Sikstrom, Ann Anderson, and Becky Miller.

Ushers—Jack Brenan, Raynold Cheronis, Larry Scabse, John Watt, John Schuler, Dale Withering, Irene Stapfer, Mary Lou Atkins, Marilyn Sanden, Joanne Schumann, Joyce Schrecongost, Andy Jones, and Rosemary McLaughlin.

Set-up—George Hesch, chairman; Harry Danielson, Joe Gahring, Jim Wilson, Bob Buchanan, Kingsley Culbertson, Bob DeVore, and John Watt.

Menu—Collette Mangus and Eugenia Price.

Communism Story In the Philippines Told By Speaker

The Rev. Leonard S. Hogenboom, speaking at the Women's Association meeting in First Presbyterian church, gave some very interesting background facts on the growth of Communism in the Philippines.

He was interned there by the Japanese during the war, is now a professor at Silliman University in the Philippines, and is now on a health furlough in the United States. He was a delegate from the Philippines at the recent general assembly of the Presbyterian denomination.

He said that landless, debt-ridden Filipinos armed with American guns, fought the Japanese occupation forces bravely during the war, but refused to lay down their arms at the close of the conflict. He stated that proposed government land reforms did not materialize, and leadership of the People's Resistance Army, now known in news reports as the "Huk", was taken over by Communists, who continue to agitate instead of to work sincerely toward a settlement of social evils of long standing in the Philippines.

Central Luzon, area of great sugar and rice plantations, are Communist strongholds, he said, and Red control has spread from four to eighteen provinces in that area. The government is forced to keep 37,000 troops in that section, and government officials cannot enter the region unguarded.

The Rev. Hogenboom showed movies of life at Silliman University, and of a number of churches rebuilt under the Restoration Fund.

ANNUAL MEETING

General Joseph Warren Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will hold their annual meeting at 2:30 p. m. Thursday at the American Legion Home. This will be the closing meeting of the year and all officers and standing committee chairmen are requested to have their annual reports ready for presentation. The day's schedule will also include a service of installation for new officers.

For the program, Miss Minnie Shawkey will give a review of the DAR Magazine and there will be music by the Misses Janet and Joyce Furman. Tea will be served by Mrs. W. G. Cable and her committee.

Grace Methodist WSCS Concluding Work of Season

The final meeting of Grace Methodist WSCS prior to the summer vacation period was held in the church dining room Friday evening.

Mrs. R. R. Young, retiring president, spoke briefly on the scope of the work done by the society and recounted what has been accomplished in the past year. She expressed her appreciation to officers and members with whom she has worked.

Mrs. LeRoy Hammerbeck led the group in singing "Silently Now I Wait For Thee".

Mrs. T. R. Sponser gave a five-minute resume of news items on missionary work being done by the Methodist church in Korea, India, Alaska and the United States.

Following a very brief business session, Rev. C. W. Baldwin installed the new officers. He pointed out that the WSCS is a very vital part of the work of the Methodist church and only as each officer and member gives willingly of her time and service can the goal of success be reached.

Mrs. Hammerbeck, in coming president, expressed the hope that by the united efforts of all members the society may look forward to another successful year.

Mrs. Young introduced the guest speaker, Miss Lois McClelland, instructor of physical education in Jamestown schools, who went to Denmark last summer as a youth ambassador from the Young Adult Civic League of Jamestown. Kodachrome slides added interest to many of her remarks.

A social hour followed in the dining room, with refreshments served buffet style from a prettily appointed table.

Children on Vacation Are No Problem if Mothers Co-operate

SUMMER vacation in many households is a mixed blessing. The children greet three months of no school with delight, while Mama groans inwardly at the thought of trying to keep the young ones occupied and out of the neighborhood fights that are always resulting from unsupervised play.

The answer for Mama lies in co-operation with the other mothers in her neighborhood.

If they don't co-operate they are all tied down all summer, and all tormented with the every-hour-on-the-hour question: "What can I do, Mom?"

But if they get together on the problem of how to keep the children entertained and happy during the summer months they can give their children most of the advantages of a summer camp, right in their own back yards.

One mother, who has a lot of patience and is handy with tools, can take the youngsters over one morning a week for a workshop period in her garage.

Another mother who has a car can load it up with the neighborhood gang one afternoon each week and take them off to a playground or wading or swimming pool for a get-away-from-home treat.

Another, with an out-of-doors grill, can entertain them for a few hours with a bring-your-own wieners-and-mushrooms party in the back yard or just a little picnic if that is easier.

And so it goes. A little neighborhood planning and co-operation during the summer months can keep the children busy, happy and supervised.

When there is no co-operation each mother struggles along, marking off the days until school opens in the fall. The children become bored and hard to handle. And the easiest-going mother in the neighborhood ends up by spending her summer with the whole neighborhood gang underfoot most of the day.

Piano Students of Russell Studios In Fine Spring Recital

Students of the Russell Piano Studios presented a well-chosen program of piano solos and two-piano selection to an enthusiastic audience in the Woman's Club.

Just before the beginning of the program, Miss Gladys Judd, as chosen spokesman for the class, presented Mrs. Alice Russell and Miss Evelyn Samuelson with handsome corsages and a daintily wrapped gift. Then she read a charming bit of verse written by the class and expressive of the deep appreciation all felt for the continued efforts of the two teachers in their behalf throughout the year.

The following students were heard on the beautifully presented program: Victor Hendrickson, Jimmie Shorman, Joann Myers, Sally Buerkle, Eddie Zimmerman, Barbara Yeagle, Susan Werner, Tim Dremann, Ann Fuchhart, James Miller, Karen Curtis, Suzanne Myers, Priscilla Ross, Margery Rader, Linda Miller, Andy Larson, David Swanson, Judi Callenberg, Sharon Woods, Karen Hagstrom, Toni Callenberg, Mary Miller, Gloria Peterson, Jane McDonald, Gladys Judd, Nancy Reynolds.

At the close of the program, Mrs. Russell presented James Hildum, a former student of the studios, who is summer vacationing at home. He responded by playing the Berceuse by Chopin and the Etude in D Flat Major by Liszt. Both numbers were well chosen, giving Mr. Hildum ample opportunity to display the quiet emotional character of the former in contrast to the fiery brilliancy of the latter.

JUNIOR CHOIR

CONCLUDES SEASON

The junior choir of Grace Methodist church and their director, Mrs. Edwin Jack, concluded their winter season with a tureen dinner at which they entertained mothers of members and Rev. C. W. Baldwin, pastor.

Mr. Baldwin spoke briefly to the group, extending his praise, encouragement and thanks. Mrs. Jack spoke of her plans for the coming year, saying she hoped to divide the group according to grades, including third, fourth, fifth and sixth in the junior choir and grades seven through ten in an intermediate group. She was personally thanked by the mothers for the fine work she has done with the choir.

The choristers sang two beautiful numbers at the Sunday morning service in Grace church, "Saviour Hear Us, We Pray" and "The Holy City". They were accompanied by one of their own members, Rebecca Munn, who is very accomplished for her twelve years.

BIRTHDAY EVENT

Thirteen members of the Mizpah class of the Akeley Sunday school enjoyed a gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Sears honoring May birthday anniversaries of Curtis and Harold Arthur, Norine Granquist, Beverly Lundmark, Donald Cable and Mrs. Fannie Holt.

The evening was spent in playing Pop Goes the Weasel, with Beverly Lundmark receiving high honors. Vera Satterthwaite conducted a brief business session which developed into definite plans or raising funds. Phyllis Nicholson invited the class to her home in June, the date to be announced later, and the hostess served refreshments to conclude the evening.

CLARENDON AUXILIARY TO VISIT VETERANS

Marshall Larsen VFW Auxiliary of Clarendon made plans at its regular meeting for a visitation to Warren State Hospital to entertain the veterans on Wednesday evening of this week. All interested and able to attend should meet at the post rooms at Clarendon at 6:45 p. m.

The remainder of the regular meeting was devoted to a plastics party for members and friends and lunch served by the committee.

NEW FACE IN RED PORTRAIT PARADE—A procession of German Communist youth carries large portraits of Red leaders up the Unter den Linden into Lustgarten Square, Berlin. Most notable addition to the lineup is the Chinese Communist boss, Mao Tse-tung, at left rear. Next in line is Marshal Stalin, followed by Nikolai Lenin and Friedrich Engels. Making a grim backdrop for the Red demonstration are the ruins of a war blasted Berlin building.

SMOKY JOE

By W. F. BRAGG

Chapter 22

AS the buckskin drove into the cleared space around the chuckwagon, he saw punchers racing toward saddled night horses, picketed out on the grass or tied to the wagon wheels.

Near the fire, Joe could see the cook striving manfully to save his Dutch oven and coffee pot.

Flinging himself off the panting buckskin, Joe grabbed the cook and yelled above the thunder of the runaway herd, "Get into the wagon, or they'll tromp you to death!"

Joe raced around the rear end of the wagon. Not far away he saw a small white tent outlined in the darkness. And struggling with a pony, he discovered Connie Hale. When he seized her in his arms, she tried to fight. But he toted her to the rear wheel of the chuckwagon.

Joe boosted Connie up the wheel, then followed. The old cook was crouching on the high seat. He gripped an old black powder rifle. Joe whipped the rifle from the cook's hands. He slid over the front of the wagon and braced himself on the broad part of tongue where it joined the running gear.

When he could see the face of the leading steer, he began firing. Joe knew the roar of the gun would have small effect in splitting the horned front of the stampede, but he counted on the red spots of flame from the barrel and the sharp smell of burning black powder to avert the cattle from their destructive course.

A bullet hit the lead steer between the eyes and it sprawled over the end of the tongue. A half-dozen animals, following closely, tongues lolling, piled up on the quivering body of the leader.

The main charge split, went streaming past the chuckwagon. Then nothing remained but the smell of dust and blood and the racket of the run receding into the night.

The three climbed down shakily from the wagon, wide-eyed men and a trembling girl.

"Thank heaven," the cook said huskily, "there's coffee in the wagon. And water in the dry camp pail."

"Well, Connie," Joe said sheepishly, as though he blamed himself for this destruction, "I feel like I'd just come through a Texas tornado."

"Tornado?" Connie responded. She came up to the fire, pulling the blanket tightly around her. "That's putting it mildly. Tears came suddenly into her dark eyes. 'I wonder what jumped them at the background. They seemed so contented.'

LONG John Hale was the first of the crew to return. He came in at a run, a slab-sided old ranger with spiky gray beard on his sharp chin, and aropy mustache beneath his beak of a nose. Sliding off his sweat-streaked horse, he took his daughter into his arms in a mighty bear hug. "We was all so locoed," Long John confessed, "that I was a mile down the huts and ridin' fer leather before I remembered I ever had a daughter. We got 'em stopped two miles on in a milk. But we won't know thinkin' of that. The loss is. And what happened to you, Connie?"

She indicated Joe, who had remained over on the other side of fire while father and daughter embraced. Long John stalked around the back of the wagon, then up the latter's coupler.

"Munro," he said, "I don't know where you come from, but yuh sure arrived in time."

"I'm glad," said Joe. Then he asked Long John, "Didn't Whisperin' Johnson say that about what happened to us tonight, in Rawhide Gap?"

Long John blinked his eyes. "Whisperin' Johnson? Say, Joe, I haven't seen that old galoot since he come to get you, south of Cheyenne."

So Whisperin' Johnson had disappeared. Perhaps he had encountered that gang of stampedeers. Or the old cowboy might have been run down by the cattle.

Joe sought to borrow Long John's horse to start an immediate search. But another tragedy of the

Chapter 23

WHEN Joe rode away from the wrecked camp, he knew that Hale and his men could not long outrun Shorty Dike and the posse from following his trail.

Eager to reach the high country before the posse blocked his way, yet willing to run risks if he could find some clue to the identity of the stampedeers, Joe turned from the trail. Here, blurred tracks in the dry sand informed him that men and horses had waited recently. He slid to the ground. There was nothing to prove that these were the men who had jumped the cattle and killed Yarbo, but Joe hadn't the slightest doubt that the rustlers had hidden here.

In the soft sand, Joe could discover no sharply printed hoof or footprints. But he did discover the stub of a cigarette where a man's heel had ground it into the earth.

When he remounted, Joe set a course that took him deeply into the rough hills that flanked the trail up Antelope Valley.

The map Joe had taken from Rogan's office indicated that Lost Creek Canyon possessed a vital importance in Rogan's plans. Then Whisperin' had spoken of a hide-out in the canyon. And Pecos Shay and the man in black, talking in the wagon shed, had described Lost Creek Canyon as some sort of headquarters.

Reaching a small clear stream that flowed from a small spring hidden in a dense grove of quaking aspens, Joe rode through the trees toward the brush to hide the tracks of his horse.

He ate the jerked beef and cold sourdough bread the cook had fixed up, watered his pony at the spring, then tied it to a tree. Sprawled in the soft grass, hidden from all eyes by the graceful aspens, Joe pulled his hat over his face and drifted into a dreamless sleep.

Something awakened him so twifly that he was up on his boots and reaching for his six-gun before his eyes were fully open. He saw then that his horse had turned its head toward the lower edge of the grove and pricked up its ears. Just in time, Joe reached the side of the pony and closed his hand over its nostrils to prevent a revealing whinny.

Creeping to the lower edge of the quaker patch, Joe saw a dozen heads of cattle sinking blunt muzzles into the cool water, slaking their thirst.

Joe sank back into the inky shadows cast by the trees as a horseman followed, galloping over the hill and down to the creek. The rider spurred around the longhorns and took up a station to cut off any wanderers.

The rider halted his horse near enough so that his features were plain to Joe. He was a chunky built man, with a stubby red mustache and whiskers. He carried a rifle on his saddle.

JOE returned to his pony in a hurry, fearing the horse might whinny and reveal his hiding place. He untied the hackamore rope, and cautiously worked his way up to the top of the grove. Mounting, he worked his way slowly around the patch until he reached a thin spot from which he could watch the man and the cattle.

Joe felt quite certain that the man belonged to the gang of stampedeers. The hard driven cattle were some that had been cut off during the night and rushed into the hills by the rustlers.

Although he owed a debt to Long John Hale for saving him from Dike and the posse, Joe didn't believe that he'd gain much by attacking the lone rustler and saving a dozen or so cattle. He was glad that he hadn't made a hostile move when he heard the clatter of hoofs among the rocks on the ridge where the rustler had first appeared. Low over his saddle horn, peering through the tangle of quaker trunks and wild raspberry brush, Joe saw two more riders come into sight.

The rangy horseman was easily recognized by Joe as the man he had last seen with a smoking gun in his hand on the stage of the Silver Hill. Pecos Shay.

And slumped over his saddle horn, with a face as pale as Shay, was Whisperin' Johnson. He was guiding his horse with free hands, but the noise of a lariat had been slipped down over his head so that it was tight around his corded throat.

The horseman with the red mustache, who was holding up the cattle, yelled a horse greeting to Pecos Shay. From his bull voice Joe knew him to be the man he had called Foghorn in Rawhide Gap, the man whose horse he had taken in that breathless encounter in the alley just outside the Silver Hill.

"Get a move on you, Shay!" Foghorn roared. "Otherwise we'll not make Lost Creek by dark!"

Shay came on steadily, hand resting lightly on the rope that led to Whisperin's neck. He turned his head so that Joe could see the flash of his teeth in the sunlight. "Shut up, Seb," he answered lazily. "Plenty time to get to the creek. Nobody to bother us now. Rest of the boys should be comin' along soon."

All of which the rider shook up his reins. He motioned to Whisperin' Johnson to ride ahead of him again.

"How'll you make this Johnson talk?" Seb asked, pausing by Shay and turning his eyes on the silent figure of the old cowboy with the red nose around his neck.

"Here's the little pet that'll make any man talk," said Shay. "You start slicin' off about one square inch of his hide at a time. A very delicate operation. About the fifth cut, they start to talk."

The knife that Shay held was long-bladed and similar to the steel blade with which the man in black had attacked the dummy in Joe's night camp at the cabin on Antelope.

THE MARKETS

New York, June 6.—(P)—General Motors common stock advanced 2 1/2 points to $1 in an opening trade of 35,000 shares today. The price was the highest paid since 1928. The transaction involved $2,275,000 and represented a consolidation of numerous buy and sell orders. Heavy demand was stimulated by announcement late yesterday of a proposal by GM's directors to split the outstanding stock on the basis of two shares for each one held. The balance of the market moved up briskly at the opening with gains running to around 1/4 point. Trading quickly slowed but gains were fully maintained.

SPORT NEWS

Detroit Winning On the Road But Has Poor Showing at Home

Detroit owns one of the most beautiful baseball parks in the country but the Tigers would just as soon play elsewhere.

The reason? The Tigers have been almost unbeatable on foreign fields. In contrast they've played under .500 ball in Briggs stadium. Manager Red Rolf is at a loss to explain the surprising turn of events but as long as the Bengals keep winning away from home, he doesn't care. The red-thatched pilot is confident his charges will find the winning combination on home soil before long.

The Tigers whipped the Senators in Washington, 7-4, last night for their 18th triumph in 22 games away from home. That's an amazing .864 percentage and far better than the front running New York Yankees' fine record of 14-4 on the road. At home Detroit has won only eight while losing nine.

Yesterday's triumph coupled with New York's 3-2 defeat by Cleveland pushed the runner-up tigers up within a game and a half of the Yankees. Boston's third place Red Sox buried the Chicago White Sox under a 12-0 shellacking to climb within four games of the top.

Brooklyn's Dodgers gained undisputed possession of first place in the National League vanquishing the Chicago Cubs, 13-1, in the only afternoon game while the Philadelphia Phils shaded the St. Louis Cardinals, 6-5. In the only other league game, the New York Giants edged out the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-4 in 10 innings.

The Dodgers now enjoy a half game edge on the Phils who swept past the Cards by a half length on the strength of their victory. Outstanding in yesterday's doings was the batting of George Kell and Hoot Evers of the Tigers; Vern Stephens and Ted Williams, Red Sox; Bob Kennedy, Indians; Del Ennis, Phillies; Bob Morgan, Dodgers and Sam Calderone, Giants.

Other noteworthy achievements were the pitching of Cleveland's Bobby Feller, Boston's Maury McDermott, Brooklyn's Preacher Roe, Philadelphia's Robin Roberts and the New York's Andy Hansen. Kell, American League's champion batter last season, moved into a tie with Cleveland's Larry Doby for the batting leadership at .388 by rapping four straight singles. Evers made only two hits but one was a homer and the other a triple to drive in five runs. Dizzy Trout went the distance for his third triumph without a loss and the Tigers' sixth in succession. The defeat was Washington's sixth straight.

Stephens clouted his 11th homer and a double to drive in four runs as the Red Sox rang up a four-day total of 51 runs on 57 hits against 18 pitchers. They've won all four. Williams collected two hits for a four game total of nine in 18 times at bat since the Red Sox returned home.

McDermott, who replaced starting Ellis Kinder with one out and two on in the first inning when Kinder complained of a kink in his left shoulder, yielded only four hits in getting credit for the shut-out, it was his fourth triumph against one loss.

Kennedy scored two of Cleveland's three runs against Allie Reynolds and reliever Joe Page

Robinson Is Victor Over French Boxer

Philadelphia, June 6—(AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, the master craftsman of the ring, has a one-forty eighth interest in the middleweight crown today after doing a workmanlike job on stocky Robert Villmain of France.

But the lanky Sugar form New York's Harlem definitely would like the other 47 parts—even to the extent of giving up his welterweight title—before retiring in two years.

Robinson won the Pennsylvania version of the 160-pound championship last night before a disappointing crowd of 22,004 which paid $119,007.49 to see the fight at Philadelphia's huge municipal stadium. He displayed a variety of blows, that, while not able to knock out the Frenchman, caused Villmain to say in his dressing room:

"He's a real champion. He hits harder than any man I ever met."

Hartford, Conn.—Tufts College was named to represent district one in the NCAA baseball championship.

Denver, Colo.—Colorado A. and M. defeated Colorado State, 9-5, for the district seven spot in the NCAA baseball tournament.

Racing

New York—Bryan G. ($7.70) beat out Bit O'Fate in the six furlong feature at Belmont.

Boston—Outland ($14.00) captured the mile and 70 yards headline race at Suffolk Downs.

Wilmington, Del.—Noble Impulse ($4.50) won the six furlong feature at Delaware Park.

FIGHT RESULTS

By The Associated Press
Philadelphia — Ray Robinson, 155, New York outpointed Robert Villmain, 159½, France (15).

Brooklyn — Paddy De Marco, 136½, Brooklyn, outpointed Ruben Davis, 132, Fall River, Mass. (8).

New York—Rocky Fusco, 131, New York, outpointed Charlie Slaughter, 129½, Elizabeth, N. J. (8).

Wilkes-Barre, Pa.—Rocky Castellani, 155½, outpointed Phil Burton, 145½, St. Louis (10).

Horses were first introduced in the Southwest in 1540 by the Spanish explorer, Coronado. Cattle and sheep were brought by Spanish colonists in 1588.

Cardinals Talk a Good Game; One Reason They're a Threat

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The Cardinals are the only club left in the major leagues still indulging in the once prevalent pastime of lobby dusting.

Lobby dusting, in case you have forgotten, consists of sitting around hotel lobbies and talking, and of course, the St. Louis Nationals speak only of baseball. The Red Birds are the most articulate club in the business, which is one reason why they are still a pennant threat, despite certain handicaps.

At the slightest excuse Marty Marion will tell you the 75 or so things a shortstop should be able to do without thinking twice. Marion is the unofficial spokesman of the Cardinals. Ask a Red Bird about anything having to do with the management, and he'll say, "See Skip," meaning Eddie Dyer. Ask him about anything concerning his welfare, and he'll reply, "Ask Marty." Anything he does is okay with me.

Dyer tells you more about the Cardinals and the league in five minutes than Joe McCarthy, for example, unfolds in five years. The boss man doesn't pull a punch or throw a curve. If the one-time Rice coach and all-around athlete has something to say about Owner Fred Saigh, for instance, he'll out with it. He didn't hesitate to speak his mind when Murry Dickson was sold without his knowledge. Gentlemen! Howard Pollet tells you the Cardinals and Dodgers will again fight it out right down to the wire in a race even more tailor-made than that of a year ago, for now the Phillies and Braves are definite contenders.

MAX LANIER will talk at the drop of an umpire's mask about any phase of baseball, especially the new one-second stop rule. Lanier will even discuss his somewhat unhappy experience in the Mexican League.

He is one of the mighty few who ventured south of the border and returned without making a public beef.

He has an unusual slant on the whys and wherefores that motivated Senior Jorge Pasquel.

"I got what they promised me the first year," says the left-handed veteran, "but after that they failed to live up to their contract. 'I believe the whole thing was a public relations stunt to help elect Miguel Aleman president. Pasquel told me he contributed $4,000,000 to Aleman's campaign fund. 'I'll make all that back and a few million more in two or three years,' he said."

Country Slaughter is always good for a yarn. "We're country boys," he says. "Nothing fancy, you see, but how many of those bonus babies make it?"

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The Cardinals needed a right-hand power hitter, so unhesitatingly picked up Johnny Lindell at the waiver price of $10,000.

"We did this without knowing what Lindell's contract with the Yankees called for," said Eddie Dyer.

"With the cut he took this spring, it is $13,500," remarked someone. Adding that the St. Louis Nationals' payroll must now be an important item.

"Why shouldn't we pay these fellows?" replied Manager Dyer. "We drew 1,430,000 paid admissions at Sportsman's Park last year. We haven't played to less than a million since 1946. We know we will draw more than a million if we are in the race."

This has to be true with Musial at $50,000, Slaughter at $30,000, Pollet at $26,500 with a bonus arrangement. Marion at $25,000, Brecheen at $22,500, Lanier at $18,000, Schoendienst and Munger at $15,000, Eddie Miller and now Lindell at $13,500, Harry Walker, Staley and Wilks at $12,500 and the rest.

The Cardinals are paying $38,500 for shortstops alone, the veteran Eddie Miller having had to be taken from the Phillies when Marty Marion injured his knee.

"THE most gratifying thing to the team and fans about the moves for Miller and Lindell," said Country Slaughter, "is that it proves Fred Saigh and the front office is out to win now."

"They don't make excuses for not taking on expensive and experienced men by saying they are building for the future."

Owner Saigh tossing money around strikingly illustrates the vast change that has taken place on the National League side in St. Louis. Sam Breadon and Branch Rickey more frequently than not were unfairly criticized for cookie cutter methods made necessary by customers remaining away in droves.

But when Rickey departed for Brooklyn, the late Singing Sam Breadon had so contracted the habit of paying the hired help off in the dark that he couldn't shake it even during the lush war years. Billy Southworth didn't do the Cardinals any harm winning three pennants and twice finishing second in five campaigns, and Eddie Dyer has kept up the good work, winning once and thrice finishing second. The Cards haven't been worse than second in nine years.

YER OUT!—Umpire Jim Boyer makes it perfectly clear as Catcher Al Evans of the Washington club puts the tag on Pete Suder, sliding head first, in the fifth inning of a game at Shibe Park. The second baseman is attempting to score on Fernin Guerra's single. The Phillies shaded the Athletics in this one, 4-3.

SAVOLD WILL MEET WOODCOCK IN LONDON

London, June 6—(AP)—An ex-bar room bouncer tangles with a plain country lad tonight for what this side of the ocean will call the world's heavyweight championship.

The combatants are Lee Savold, a 34-year-old tough guy from Englewood, N. Y., and Bruce Woodcock, a 29-year-old railwayman from Doncaster, England. Fight time is 3 p. m. (EST).

Although Britishers like to dream that Woodcock will become their first heavyweight champion since Bob Fitzsimmons (1897-1898), the men who back their dreams with money have made Savold a 4 to 7 favorite.

SPORTSMEN TO MEET
Warren County Council of Sportsmen's Clubs will meet tomorrow night at 7:30 o'clock at Guernsey Hall's camp near Youngsville. All clubs are asked to have representatives present.

During the wet season in Africa water is stored in ostrich shells.

TREMENDOUS—American League pitchers, who have long since despaired of successfully coping with the awesome Red Sox duo of Ted Williams and Vern Stephens, find they have added a new tormentor, huge Walt Dropo. The six-foot five-inch, 220-pound slugger, following Williams and Stephens in the Boston batting order, shows the mighty swing, stance and grip that keeps him among the leaders in home runs and runs-batted-in. He's slick in the field and mobile on bases, too.

Retirement Fund For Youngsville Boro Is Discussed

At Youngsville borough council meeting held last evening, Chairman Gilbert Sanford of the park committee, announced that Island Park has been thoroughly cleaned up, the buildings painted, and the park now ready for all sorts of picnics and social gatherings.

Council gave considerable discussion to a retirement and pension plan for borough employees. A committee will look further into this matter.

Announcement was also made that streets not already oiled would receive a coat as soon as the oil is received in Youngsville. A new street light will be installed on West Main street near Saron Lutheran church.

Purchase of a power mower for borough property was also discussed.

Bills in the sum of $3,783.29 were approved for payment, which includes payment for the new police car delivered during May, the price of which was $1324.64.

The police report listed 13 motor vehicle violations and fines of $53 collected with several cases pending. Other items in the police report listed seven complaints received, three doors found open, four dogs disposed of, two accidents investigated, 18 street lights out, and three lodgers.

Parking meter collections for May totaled $337.64 with 33 parking tickets issued for violations.

Blood Refrigerator Has Been Ordered

R. Pierson Eaton, president of the Warren General Hospital board of directors, announces that a new blood refrigerator has been ordered to accommodate the forthcoming supply of whole blood collected under the Red Cross Blood Program.

Within 72 hours after the first visit of the Bloodmobile on June 14, both the Warren General and the Warren State hospitals will be supplied with whole blood to meet all local needs.

The special refrigerator will be installed at considerable expense due to the fact that such equipment is much more elaborate and complicated than the average home refrigerator.

It is the community responsibility of every healthy citizen to lend full support to the Red Cross Blood program and keep the blood refrigerator filled.

WARREN VISITORS—The Rev. Vernon Serenus and family, of Omaha, Neb., here to visit friends while the former St. Paul's Lutheran pastor is en route to Washington, D. C., to attend the Augustana Lutheran Church convention. Combining a speaking tour with his convention trip, Mr. Serenus is visiting many church groups throughout the New York Conference area in the interests of Immanuel Deaconess Institute in Omaha, of which he has been director since September 15, 1919. St. Paul's of Warren was the first church Rev. Serenus served after his graduation from Augustana Seminary, coming here in 1931 and remaining until 1940. From here he went to Augustana church in Minneapolis, serving there until his appointment to the institute. His children were both born in Warren's maternity hospital, Lois on March 15, 1933, and Paul on June 14, 1938. Lois, who has just been graduated from the Academy at Luther College, Wahoo, Neb., and her mother are guests of Miss Charlotte Erickson while in town, while Paul and his father were entertained at Byron Swanson's home. Time to Howl
To the Editor:
I found this among the readers' letters in the April 20, 1950, issue of the Los Angeles Mirror:

"So Mrs. Johnson says a dog has no right to any noise. I have found in the past that when a dog barks, there is a pretty good reason for it. But is there a good reason for neighbors having wild parties and making a lot of noise until 5 in the morning?"

"You can shut a dog up. But have you tried to stop a bunch of drunks from making a lot of noise?"
"I'll take the dogs."
"Mrs. J. C. Los Angeles." Thank you, Mrs. J. C. I'll admit a howling hound can sound pretty awful when you want to sleep, but I think you're right that howling humans hopped up on hooch sound even worse. It looks to me like it's time you sober citizens started doing some howling.

RAGS
Washington, D. C.—Discussing the alcoholic problem at a recent luncheon meeting of the Women's Safety Committee of the District Chapter, American Automobile Association, in the Mayflower Hotel, Donald Clemmer, director of the District Department of Corrections, declared, "I can't see where the old clinic or the new clinic is helping at all—the problem is getting worse."
Mr. Clemmer said his department handles 14,000 drunks a year.

County Motor Club Is Represented At P. M. F. Convention

One delegate from the Warren County Motor Club is among officials from the 57 AAA automobile clubs in the state attending the 44th annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation being held today and Wednesday at the Penn-Harris Hotel in Harrisburg. Robert H. Truster is in Harrisburg for the conference, accompanied by his wife. He is a member of the board of governors of the local club.

Among the highlights of the convention will be the presentation of an award to T. Elmer Transeau, director of the State Bureau of Highway Safety, in recognition of his leadership in the eleventh annual National Pedestrian Protection contest sponsored by the American Automobile Association. The presentation will be made by James T. Havland, of Philadelphia, chairman of the P.M.F.'s Traffic Safety Committee.

The citation will commend Transeau for recognizing the importance of the pedestrian and the urgent need for greatly increasing emphasis on pedestrian protection and for outstanding achievement in stimulating local life-saving programs by interesting municipalities, over 5,000 population in the state to enter the contest and causing a high percentage of these to conduct and report on 1949 pedestrian protection activities.

Former State Senator Andrew J. Sordani, of Wilkes-Barre, president of the Federation, of which R. E. Maxwell, of Harrisburg, is secretary-manager, will preside at business sessions.

Senator Sordani will also serve as toastmaster at the annual banquet at which former United States Senator Josh Lee from Oklahoma, now a member of the Civil Aeronautics Board, will be the guest speaker.

Delegates will also hear from Gen. Jacob L. Devers (U.S.A., retired), a native of York, managing director of the AAA Foundation for Traffic Safety, Paul Wootton, nationally-known Washington correspondent and former president of the Washington Press Club; Welles A. Gray, secretary of the State Highway Planning Commission, and J. J. Cavanagh, executive vice-president of the Chicago Motor Club.

Officers will be elected and AAA directors from the Pennsylvania Motor Federation will be nominated at the closing meeting.

Membership awards to the three clubs in each of the Federation's classifications showing the greatest percentage of membership gain during the past year will be presented during the two-day meeting. Total membership of the P.M.F.-AAA clubs is now 346,822 and a goal of 400,000 members has been set.

Editor Times-Mirror
Warren, Pa.

The Trustees of Oakland Cemetery exceedingly regret the inconvenience of the dusty condition this past Memorial Day period caused by the heavy automobile traffic.

This condition can only be eliminated by building permanent type roads or that of annual oiling. This expense in addition to the regular operating costs in maintaining the cemetery is provided only from income received thru investment of funds placed in the Perpetual Care account. The principal of this trust account cannot be used for any other purpose than the upkeep of the lots.

The income is not sufficient to make all the improvements we would like to fulfill our desire to have Oakland in a well kept condition so that the Community will continue to be proud of.

It is our plan to build roads of permanent type like the section which was completed two years ago as soon as sufficient funds are available.

Trustees of Oakland Cemetery.

STOMACH GAS Can Rob You of Sleep

This condition can only be eliminated by building permanent type roads or that of annual oiling. This expense in addition to the regular operating costs in maintaining the cemetery is provided only from income received thru investment of funds placed in the Perpetual Care account. The principal of this trust account cannot be used for any other purpose than the upkeep of the lots.

The income is not sufficient to make all the improvements we would like to fulfill our desire to have Oakland in a well kept condition so that the Community will continue to be proud of.

It is our plan to build roads of permanent type like the section which was completed two years ago as soon as sufficient funds are available.
